Introduction

Welcome and enjoy yourself as you view the Fort Hays State University Block & Bridle Scrapbook. We are glad you are interested in looking at what our activities consisted of in the 1989-90 school year.

First, we want to acquaint you with our college. Fort Hays State University is located in Hays, Kansas. Hays is located along I-70 in western Kansas. Some say Hays is in the middle of Post Rock Country.

Fort Hays State University is a 4-year college with over 5,000 students. FHSU's mascot is the tiger. FHSU's colors are black and gold.

The FHSU Block & Bridle club is well recognized and known on the FHSU campus. The FHSU Block & Bridle club is the largest club on campus and has had nearly 70 active members for the past several years. In the following pages you can see the many activities the Block & Bridle club is involved with.

Many thanks to the following people who helped take pictures for the scrapbook: Laura Kleweno, Doug Brower, P.J. Nowak, Jean Gleichsner, and Gail Staab. These are just a few of the people who made this scrapbook possible. This scrapbook was constructed by Rosette Pachta who also helped take pictures and collect information for the scrapbook.

Enjoy the scrapbook and come visit FHSU!

The April 26, 1989 meeting of Block and Bridle was called to order by Tom Herzog, President, with 23 members and 2 advisors in attendance. Jerree Huckins, Secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting which were approved.

Tom encouraged everyone who had received an award at the Little "I" Banquet to write the thank you letters to the sponsors as soon as possible.

Rick Mullen reported that the final clean-up at the Pavillion would be Thursday April 28, 1989 at 8:30pm. Helpers were asked to bring brooms and shovels.

Tim Zinger asked for new ideas that would help to better the 1990 Little "I" Contest.

The Treasurers report, given by Carla Davis, was $1369.95 on campus and $74.54 off campus.

Kevin Hueser reported that the Judging Team placed second high overall and second in reasons at their last contest. Tom stated that Congradulations were in order.

Tom opened the order of new of business with the discussion of the "Back to School Picnic". Jayne Dick moved that the Block and Bridle Club should help if asked. Eric Anderson mentioned that this job was always great P.R. for the club. This motion, was moved, seconded and carried. Kathy Leiker and Shelia Morral said that they would be here over the summer to attend any meetings and express the groups interest in helping.

The recruiting table during enrollment was the next order of business. It was moved and seconded that Block and Bridle set up a table. The group discused having 2 people to organize the table over the summer. Duane Strine was named chairman and Laura Kleveno co-chairman.

Rick Mullen mentioned for everyone to be prepared to work hard for the FFA Dairy Contest, September 19, 1989 and the Juco Contest September 29, 1989, when the club resumed in the fall.

The National Meeting over the summer was the next discussion. The meeting would be in Kentucky July 31st-August 4th. It was brought up that the previous year the club provided $500 for expenses. The club talked it over and it was moved, seconded and carried that the club would provide $500 again for the National Meeting during the summer.

Jayne Dick reminded everyone about Intermueral Co-ed Softball. There could be five people to a team and the fee was due by Friday.

The last order of business was the "End of School Party". It was moved and seconded with little discussion. The party would be held in the park on Wednesday. Marc Bose and Tim Zinger said they would be in charge and post further details. The Rodeo Club would be invited. The motion passed.

The secretary read two letters received. One was from FHSU President, Edward Hammond, thanking the club for giving him the opportunity to attend the Little International awards ceremony. The second was from Jane Costigun.

The final motion was adjournment which was moved, seconded and passed.

Tom Herzog, President, began old business by thanking all those members who helped at the "Back to School Picnic." Dr. Gould also commended our good job.

The first order of new business was the mentioning of the FFA Contest and Juco Contest dates by Rick Mullen but an offical report would come during the next meeting.

An name and address list was sent around for people to sign. Tom stated that dues were $5 a semester or $10 for the year which could be paid to anyone of the officers or in the Ag office.

Once again Tim Zinger asked for people to be thinking of ideas for the Little Internatioal Showmanship Contest being held this spring.

The last order of new business was the introduction of B&B members.

Meeting was adjourned without any discussion.

Tom E. Herzog

The August 30th meeting was called to order at 7:30 pm. The minutes were read and approved. The treasurers report was $2,429.57 on campus and off campus $221.02.

Everyone introduced themselves again and the name and address list was passed around for corrections and additions. Dues were also mentioned and a deadline was set for September 27th.

Frank Morey was asked to talk about Block and Bridle for those who knew nothing about the club. He talked about the club variety of activities and was very inspiring. We want to thank him for support.

It was announced that a sign-up sheet for B&B jackets ($50) and caps ($8) would be available with Jerree.

Next Rick Mullen talked about the FFA Dairy contest, September 19th. He explained the variety of responsibilities that members were needed for. Sign-up would be during the next meeting.

Marty Sneath added that during the Juco Contest the only different activity going on would be the awards banquet. The sign-up for this contest would be in about 2 weeks.

Tom mentioned that these contest were big events for the club. Rick added that Ag class would be dismissed but others students would have to speak with teachers.

The KJLA Livestock Show was the next order of business. On September 23rd about 20 people would be needed to cook hamburgers. It was moved and seconded that the club participate in the hamburger feed. Discussion involved several members comments. Rick stated that transportation would be provided. The motion was passed and sign-up was set for next week.

Another money making project was discussed. It would be doing some painting for the Farm. 10 people would be needed and the club would be paid in hamburger. It was moved with no discussion and passed. A sign-up sheet would be available next week.

Tom next talked about the National Meeting which would be held in Denver this year January 10-13, 1990. He explained that Block and Bridle clubs meet from around the nation. In the past the club has taken about 25 member and their expense was about $75 - $100. There would be no motion until the next meeting when members, would among other thing, talk about the amount of money the club would donate.

Jayne Dick, Chariman of intermurals, said that Volleyball entries were due by the 8th. It was also reminded that the club sponsored dues.

It was mentioned that the B&B-Rodeo Club Football, Monday night, game was great fun.

Before the meeting was adjourned Tom thanked everyone for being so patient.

The meeting was adjourned without any discussion.

Tom S. Herzog

The meeting was adjourned.

ANNOUNCEMENT: No meeting October 11th.

Tom S. Herzog

The October 18th meeting was called to order with 28 members and 1 advisor present. The minutes were approved as read and there was $3,029.57 on campus and $503.78 off campus in the treasurers report.

Tom reported on the painting project at the farm. There were very few members there to paint so the project will be rescheduled sometime after the Alumni BBQ and the Regional Meeting.

Frank Morey next talked about the Alumni BBQ. He read the name of those members signed up to help. He explained a tentative schedule to be as follows: 4:00 start charcoal, 5:00 begin cooking hamburgers, and 6:00 serve. Frank then announced an extended meeting after the general meeting.

Confirmation of the Regional Meeting was the next order of business. At 5:00am members would be leaving from the farm shop. While in Brookings, SD they would be staying at the Holiday Inn. It was advised to bring $60 at least.

The last order of old business was the Endowment Telephone October 25. Those helping were reminded to be at Endowment Association at 5:30pm. Calling would start at 6:30 and would be finished about 9:30.

The first order of new business was the National Meeting January 11th-13th in Denver, CO. The trip would cost about $35-40 not including the $41 ski trip. Rick Mullen read a list of activities and seminars that would be presented. Names were taken of those members interested in going.

Everyone was next reminded of the farm clean-up during the BACCUHS Week. We were to meet at the hog unit and to bring anything that would help with the clean-up.

Yearbook pictures were scheduled for 7:05 in the Malloy Hall Little Theater. Be there on time, look nice and no caps were to be worn.

The meeting was adjourned

Tom S. Heryog

The first meeting of November was called to order with 28 members and 1 advisor in attendance. The minutes were approved as read and there was no treasure's report. A correspondence was read by Duane from Fern Ricker, Asst Manager of KJLA. He thanked the club for their great job in preparing hamburgers during the 1989 show.

Saturday, November 4th was discussed as the date to finish the painting at the dairy. To finish the painting would only take a few hours and the time was set for 8:30 am. John Gould, Rob Rahe, Frank Morey, Mike Pachta, Vince Murray and Duane Strine were volunteers.

The Alumni BBQ was the next order of old business. Frank Morey reported that the BBQ was a great success and the club made over $300.

Tim Zenger gave a report on the Christmas Party. The party would be at the Knights of Columbus and music would be by a DJ. Later in the week he would be in contact with someone in the Rodeo Club.

Next Laura Klewno gave reported on the Regional Meeting, in Brookings. Jerree Huckins was elected Regional Vice President and she was elected Regional Secretary-Treasure. She also reminded the members that next years meeting would be here at FHSU. Dr. Gould also congratulated the club on being so honored to have two officers in the region.

Duane Strine reported on the telethone that was October 25th. Everyone had a good time and raised quite a bit of money for scholarships.

Figures for the National Meeting in Denver were reported next. Registration fees are $50 and between $78-80 would be needed per person not including the ski trip. Because of the costly expenses it was moved and seconded that the club donate $900-1000 for various fees. The amount of funds in the accounts was the extent of the discussion. The motion passed.

An announcement was made that Friday, November 4th would be the Hamburger Sale. The sale would be in the meats lab between 3 and 5. Duane Strine volunteered to be chairman and Frank Morey and Rob Rahe also volunteered their services.

Tom reminded everyone of the food box in the Union Sponsored by the Non-Traditional Students for the people around Hays. Other announcements were : the coats were in, dues were needed, and the B&B Football team were champions in their intermural league. With such a strong team there was going to be a challenge with the Rodeo Club for a game at 5:30 Monday in the indoor arena.

Tim Zenger told everyone that the buckles for Little "I" were in.

Upon adjournment a big Yellow Bird appeared with a Birthday Message for Duane Hammeke. Who was that Yellow Bird, Duane?

Tom E. Herzog

30 members and 2 advisors were in attendance at the November 15th meeting. The secretaries report was approved as read and Carla reported that the treasury had $851.21 off campus and $3612.32 on campus. The vice-president read a correspondence from Jim Dawson, Vice-President of Student Affairs. He thanked the club for its efforts in the clean-up of the university during the National Alcohol Awareness Week on campus.

The Christmas Party was the first order of old business. The party would be held at the Silver Star Tavern, in Schoenchen. All set-ups and beverages were to be bought at the tavern and the admission price into the dance was $4.50. The hall rental and DJ total costs were $450. It was moved and 2nd that the Christmas party follow the previous terms above. The motion carried.

The National Meeting in Denver was the last order of old business. Those members attending would miss 2 1/2 days of classes. Students would depart from the college on Wednesday, January 10th at 2:00. The cost was still about $75-80 not including the ski trip.

Carla reported on the Judging Teams success at the Kansas City American Royal. The team placed 5th in reasons and swine, 4th in sheep and 2nd in beef. Rose Forbes placed 2nd High Individual and Marty Sneath placed 10th High Individual. Overall the team placed 2nd.

Tom reported that the varsity Judging team members were going to finish the painting at the dairy unit. He also reported that the Rodeo defeated B&B because of average player size. Another game was scheduled for Saturday, December 2nd in the afternoon. Everyone was reminded to pay their dues. Those attending the National Meeting had to have dues paid who they would not be allowed to go.

Meeting was adjourned.

Tom E. Herzog

The last meeting of the 1989 semester was November 29th with 29 members in attendance. The minutes were approved as read. Carla gave the treasurers report as $1,624.53 on campus and $761.73 off campus.

The Christmas Party was the first order of old business. Tim Zenger reported that everything was in order when he talked with the Rodeo Club except the price of tickets. The Rodeo Club wanted a couple discount that B&B had considered not to have. After considerable discussion with the Rodeo Club, Tim said they requested a couple price of $6.00 and an individual price of $4.50. A motion was made that B&B agree on the $6 charge for couples and $4.50 charge for individuals. There was some discussion of the total price of the dance and if B&B would be paying the difference if total costs weren't covered by the admission fees. Frank Morey then posed an amendment that B&B and Rodeo Club split costs or profits of the dance in 1/2. This would ensure B&B not being responsible for total costs. The amendment passed. The motion as amended passed.

The second order of old business was the National Meeting. Those members attending the meeting would leave at 2:30 on Wednesday, January the 10th. Everyone was to meet on the West side of Albertson Hall.

On Saturday they had the opportunity to tour the colleges facilities. Saturday evening was the showmanship contest which after there was a dance there in the arena. Overall Kathy reported that everyone had a great time, some better than others.

Tim Zenger next reported Little "I" to be held April 21st. February 26th through March 23rd would be the sign-up dates. Then during the week of March 26th animals would be selected. At this time Tim also announced that a Sheep chairman and assistant, as well as an assistant for him, was needed. During the next meeting the club would be choosing an Honorary Member and those club members to receive other plaque awards. The banquet was going to be held in the Memorial Union this year and meals would be $7.50 per person. A slide show was going to be held instead of having a speaker because of the growing length of the banquet in past years. Tim next announced that caps with the Little "I" logo had been ordered for participation awards. The last announcement made was that a decision had been made to possibility hold the dance at the Pavillion. More details about this would be reported on at a later date.

Carmon Wilhelm reported on the Sausage Sale. Monday the 19th at about 6:30 the club needed to trim fat off the meat. Tuesday and Wednesday were the other two days decided on by the club to finish the project by grinding and packaging. Volunteer names were taken and Carmon said she would be calling everyone to remind them.

The meeting was adjourned.

Tom F. Hengge

The February 28th meeting was opened with 19 members present. The minutes were approved as read and the Treasurer was absent so no club balance was reported. Tom introduced new faculty member Dr. Ron Nelson and he was regonized by the club.

In old business, Carmen Wilhelm reported on the sausage processing that occured the 19th, 20th, and 21st. Flyers had been sent throughout the campus and the sale would be from 3:00 to 5:00 March 1st at the Meat Slab. Robert Corley volunteered to help Carmon during the sale.

Tim Zenger next had a short report on Little I. He handed out the rules and encouraged everyone to spread the word about the sign-up. He also requested a short meeting with the speices chairman.

The first topic in new business was the FFA Livestock Judging Contest April 9th. Kevin Huser is responsible for putting this contest together and would be at the next meeting to get voluteers for the various jobs for the contest. Jerree Huckins, Kris Ketter, and Marcie Radford voluteered to be on the lunch committee.

The next order of new business was the nomination and secret ballet election of "Outstanding Senior, Transfer, and Underclassman". At this time Tom made it perfectly clear that the lists of members being considered for these awards were those with paid dues. Frank Morey moved that nominees for these awards be placed this evening, but voting be allowed to continued for two weeks in the Ag office because of the low attendance at the current meeting. This motion was seconded and passed. The nominees for "Outstanding Senior" are Marty Sneath, Tom Herzog, Carla Davis, Duane Hammeke, and Tim Zenger. Two "Outstanding Senior" members can be voted upon for the award if so wished. The nominees for "Outstanding Transfer Student" are Rob Rahe, Scott Ausherman, and Vincent Murray and the nominees for "Under Classman" are Carmen Wilhelm, Roger Gleason, and Laura Kleweno. Only one nominee can be voted upon for each Transfer and Under Classman awards.

Club election was the next order of business. The Senior members had devised a questionare for those wishing to be one of their nominees for office. The questionarës were due to Tom or in the Ag Office by April 1st. The elections would be held during the April 11th meeting.

Tom announcements were about the Bacchus activities about a safe Spring Break and Hays communities Springwell, a health program event promoting good health with the help of campus clubs that have the opportunity of set up a health booth.

Meeting was adjourned.

Tom F. Herzog

The minutes of February 28th were approved as read with 23 members and Dr. Mike Gould, Advisor present. The treasurers balance was reported as $1154.72 on campus and $1480.37 off campus.

Tom announced that Tim Zenger's name had been mistakenly left off the list for Senior Awards and those who had voted since the last meeting could revote if they so choosed.

Carmen Whihelm next reported that sausage sale was a sucess. About 250lbs had been sold and there was still some left.

Tom next reminded everyone about the applications for next years officers. These forms were due by April 1st.

Tim Zenger had nothing to report on Little "I".

The first order of new business was a report from Kevin Huser, University Farm, on the FFA Livestock Juding Contest April 9th. Volunteers for various jobs were taken down. Dr. Spaulding, Agriculture instructor, who was introduced during the beginning of the meeting would be running the computer tabulations on the day of the contest. He requested a meeting of tabulators after the meeting.

Kevin also announced the Lamb and Pig Sale would be April 22nd. At a later date he would discuss the possibility of the club serving a lunch that day for the buyers.

Nomination and election of "Honorary Member" was the next order of new business. It was move that the voting for "Honorary Member" award be conducted like the voting of "Outstanding Senior, Transfer and Underclassman" awards. The motion from February 28th stated "nominees for the awards be placed this evening,....but voting be allowed to continue for 2 weeks, leaving the folders in the Agriculture office." The motion to conduct the voting this way for "Honorary Member" failed. Stephaine Davis then moved that the voting ballet, for "Honorary Member", be brought to the next meeting (March 21st) to allow those not at this evening meeting the chance to vote. The motion was seconded and passed. The nominees for "Honorary Member" were Rick Mullen and farm managers Bill Hoffman, Gary Rolland, Kevin Huser, and Mike Ouellette.

Before the meeting was over a question was raised about the dance after the Little I banquet. Tim expressed that he had no current ideas other than those discussed during previous meeting. He suggested a committee be developed. Kathy Leiker, Marcie Radford, Jayne Dick, Carla Davis and Rose Forbes all volunteered for the dance committee.

The meeting was adjourned.

Tom E. Herzog

28 members and one advisor were present during the March 21st meeting. The minutes were approved as read and the treasure reported there was $1154.72 on campus and $1480.37 off campus.

Tim Zenger gave a report on Little I. He reported that all the judges had accepted and that the dance committee had an idea that would be discussed more at the next meeting. He reminded everyone that the sign-up ended Friday and drawing would be later next week. Tim requested to speak with the speices chairman after the meeting and also ask club members to make an announcement about Little I in their classes.

Duane Strine read a correspondence from the President of the Earth Day 1990 Committee. The letter was encouraging university clubs to join in the "Adopt-a-Block", April 22nd, to pick up trash around the university. After the pick up everyone would meet and seperate the trash for recycling. There was little club discussion because this activity conflicted with the Lamb and Pig Sale.

Kevin Huser next reported on the FFA Livestock Judging Contest. If it was alright with everyone the Pavillion would be set-up on Sunday. Lunches would also be made Sunday afternoon.

Duane Strine report that the Block and Bridle basketball team took 2nd place in the Intermural Championship.

Tom reminded everyone that tonight was the last night to vote for Honorary Member.

Kris Ketter report that Student Government election were April 11th and 12th. The deadline for turning in request forms was Friday, March 30th. Kris and Laura said they would work on posters for those B&B members running.

The meeting was adjourned.

Tom E. Herzog

The meeting of April 4th was called to order by Vice-President Strine in the absense of President Herzog. The minutes were approved as read. Carla reported there was $1154.72 in the on campus account and $1208.23 in the off campus account. Carla also reported that the club had be allocated $4,250 by the SGA Allocations Committee for the 1990-91 school year.

Jayne Dick next reported that the Little "I" dance would be held in the building formally the Stallion. The rent for the room was $200 and the DJ cost was also $200. Those attending the dance would be responsible for bringing their own beverage. A motion from the floor was made for the club to donate $150 toward the cost of the dance and that a $2.00 be charged to get into the dance. The motion was seconded and passed. Jayne also reported that there was an intermural volleyball tournament the same weekend as the Rodeo. If anyone was interested they could contact the intermural office.

Kevin Huser reported that the club would be sponsoring 21 teams consisting of senior and greenhand teams during the FFA Livestock Judging Contest. Set-up would be Sunday at 2:00 with a general meeting at 5:00.

Laura Kleweno reported she would be making posters for those members running in SGA elections.

Tim reported that Sheila Morrill was incharge of the lunch being served during the Little "I". Anyone interested in helping should contact her.

Meeting adjourned.

Tom E. Herzog

Block and Bridle Minutes

April 11, 1990

35 members met at the University Pavillion for the April 11th meeting. The minutes were approved as read and the Vice-President reported there was $1134.72 on campus and $1132.23 off campus in the club account.

Rich Gleason reported that the FFA Livestock Judging Contest was a great success and thing went smooth. There were 23 teams present and Cheylin was the overall high team.

Jerree reminded everyone that they needed to sign-up for the banquet by Thursday. Awards couldn't be received if winners were not in attendance at the banquet.

Tim informed Little "I" contestants to check the bulletin board for any announcements from the species chairman. Tim also announced that he wanted to meet with the species chairman after the meeting.

The next item of business was the elections of new officers for the 1990-91 school year. Those elected were:

- President-Frank Morey
- Vice President-Brenden Osborn
- Secretary-Carmon Wilhelm
- Tresearer-Laura Kleweno
- Historian-Jerree Huckins

- Little "I" Chairman-Rob Rahe
- Little "I" Asst.-Jerry DeWeese
- Senior Advisor-Dr. Mike B. Gould
- Junior Advisors-Mike Ouellette
- Kevin Huser
- Dr. Ron Nelson

During the election of the Dairy Contest Chairman there was a motion made to elect Co-Chairs. This motion was seconded, discussed but failed. Another motion was moved and seconded to elect a chairman and an assistant. During discussion an ammendment was made to the standing motion, to allow the Dairy Contest Chairman to select an assistant. The ammended motion passed. Kathy Leiker was elected to the position of Dairy Chairman.

Laura Kleweno reminded everyone to participate in Student Goverenment Elections.

Meeting was adjourned.

"Welcome Back" Picnic

The Fort Hays Block and Bridle Club started their academic year serving the annual "Welcome Back" picnic. On August 21, 1989 the club served over 3000 students, faculty, alumni, guests, and staff. The picnic is sponsored by the Fort Hays State University Alumni. The picnic is held on the Memorial Union lawn on the Fort Hays State Campus. Our Block and Bridle Club feels privileged to be asked to serve it this year and many years in the past.

In the picture, Tom Herzog, President, keeps the members organized and keeps everything running smoothly. The club served over 3000 people in less than one- and-half hours. Also pictured is members, Jeree Huckins, Deanna Fitzsimmons, and Frank Morey which are serving one of the lines.

Carla Davis, Mike Schloctermeier, Rich Gleason, and Rob Rahe are serving one of the lines at the
"Welcome Back" picnic.

Tami Splitter, Janet Suelter, and Jaayne Dick are serving at one of the four serving lines at the
"Welcome Back" Picnic.

The members are prepared for the crowd of the "Welcome Back" Picnic. Some last minute instructions never hurt.

The "crew" or Block and Bridle members gather around one of the serving tables to get a picture before they have to start serving.

Endowment Fund Drive

The Block and Bridle Club took their turn in helping raise money for the Endowment Association. The Endowment Fund Drive lasts for 14 nights and students of clubs on campus call alumni to raise money for scholarships.

The Block and Bridle Club and Agriculture Faculty members raised $4500.00 in the one night that they helped make calls to the alumni. The Endowment Fund Drive's goal was $225,000.00

Ten members and four faculty members helped make calls across the United States to alumni to raise money for scholarships.

Members were either designated to call Kansas, Out-state, or Hays phone numbers.

Campus Clean-up

The FHSU clubs and organizations together cleaned and picked up trash around campus in a joint effort. The project was to keep the campus beautiful and enjoyable. The Block and Bridle Club cleaned the college farm in this project.

The college farm was the section of campus that the FHSU Block & Bridle Club kept clean in the campus-wide project.

Kansas Junior Livestock Show

Twenty members and three faculty sponsors traveled to Wichita to the Kansas Junior Livestock Show. The club served over 1200 hamburgers to Junior Livestock show participants and their family members.

Members organizing to serve hamburgers to over 1200 people.

Members are ready to serve the large crowd.

Rodeo Alumni Dinner

The club was asked to serve the FHSU Rodeo Alumni Dinner. The club served the meal to about 150 alumni and members and made about $300.00

Members served hamburgers, potatoes, beans, and chips to over 150 Rodeo alumni and members.

Members served the dinner to a large crowd.

Members cooked hamburgers to serve for the Rodeo alumni dinner.

Members were cooking hamburgers so that other members could be serving them at the same time.

Sausage Sale

Our main fund raiser of the year is our Sausage Sale. The members cut, grind, and package the meat. We advertise our Sausage Sale on campus and have two different times people can pick up their sausage.

This year we sold over 350 pounds of sausage.

Members, Carmen Wilhelm and Rod Corley, fill customers orders from the freezer of stored packages meat.

Rod Corley gives a customer his package of sausage.

Rod Corley carries the meat to the customers vehicle.

Dr. Gould helps Carmen get ready for customers. He explains how the tickets need to be figured.

Block & Bridle members ground and packaged the sausage to be sold. The sausage was cut and ground one night and then packaged on another night. The Block & Bridle members had to have the meat federally inspected before selling it for a profit.

FFA Dairy Contest

The Block and Bridle Club hosted the FFA Dairy Contest on September 19, 1990.

The University farm supplied the Dairy cows and the FHSU Judging team were the officials and took reasons. The contest ran very smoothly as a large number of B & B members helped in all aspects of the contest.

The fifteen teams that participated gathered around before the contest to hear the contest rules and to see a type demonstration.

The dairy contest is held in the University Pavilion.

The contest contestants were in groups that were led by B & B members.

B & B members were also group leaders as the contestants were waiting to give their reasons after being bused to the Gross Coliseum.

The FHSU Judging team officiated the contest and also took reasons from the contestants.

The club served doughnuts and pop as a morning break between the judging and reasons.

B & B members washed and clipped the dairy cows before the judging contest.

B & B members helped the University farm employees transport the animals to the pavilion for the contest. The members helped load the cows after the contest.

B & B member, Tim Zenger, timed the contest and informed the groups to move to the next pen of animals.

The tabulation of the contest was done with computers in Albertson Hall. Faculty members, Dr. Spaulding and Rick Mullen helped with the tabulations.

Junior College Livestock Judging Contest

The Block and Bridle Club hosted a Junior College Livestock Judging Contest on September 29, 1990. There was fifteen teams that participated and they represented five states.

B & B members were group leaders and also helped move the livestock and kept track of time of each round.

The contest consisted of twelve classes. The contest was held at the University Pavilion and the class were divided up into two rounds so that six class were available at one time.

The contest participants were bused to the Coliseum to give their reasons. B & B members were group leaders.

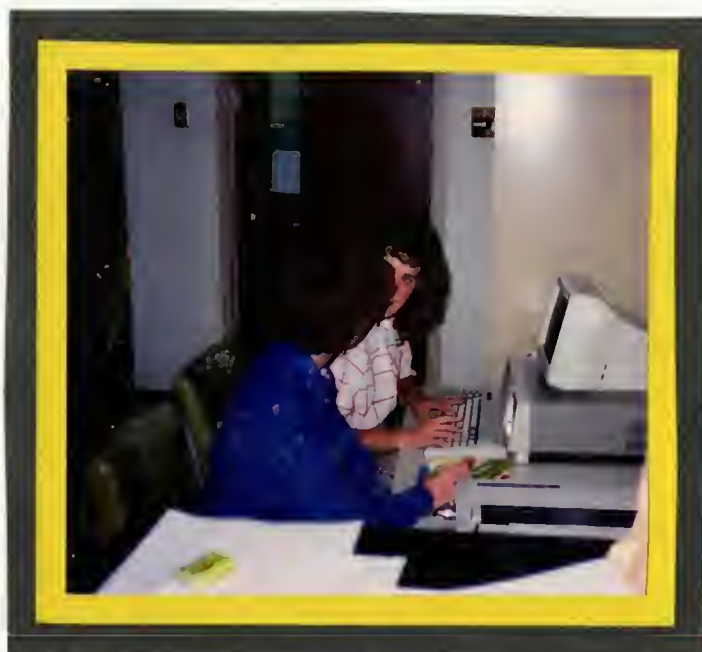

FHSU Alumni Judging team members were the officials of the contest and also took reasons.

The contest participants were served a sack lunch between the judging part of the contest and the reasons.

B & B members made the sack lunches the night before the contest to be served to the participants. B & B members also served the sack lunches.

Computers are used to help with tabulation of the contest.

Six B & B members and two faculty members work together to complete tabulations of the contest.

B & B members helped the University farm employees to transport the livestock to the Pavilion for the contest.

The FHSU Alumni Livestock Judges that officiated the contest and took reasons were given certificate of appreciation at the awards banquet.

Dr. Gould welcomed all the teams to the Awards Banquet at the Fanchon and announced the team and individual awards.

The team and individual awards were handed out with congratulations by Kevin Huser, FHSU Livestock Judging Coach. The high team was Colby Community College. The high individual was a student from Hutchison Community College.

FFA Northwest District Livestock Judging Contest

The Northwest District FFA again ask our Block and Bridle club to host the Northwest District Livestock Judging Contest. On April 12, 1990, we held the contest and 23 teams attended. We had eight classes of livestock with the contest held at the University Pavilion.

B & B members were group leaders and also made sure of keeping the animals up and moving around.

We had eight classes in the contest with B & B members being group leaders for each group.

P.J. Niwak, B & B member, is a group leader which is picking up cards before moving to the next class. Cards are picked up during the contest so that tabulation can be taking place during the contest.

Carla Davis, B & B member, is leading the contest participants to the bus to be taken to the Coliseum to give reasons.

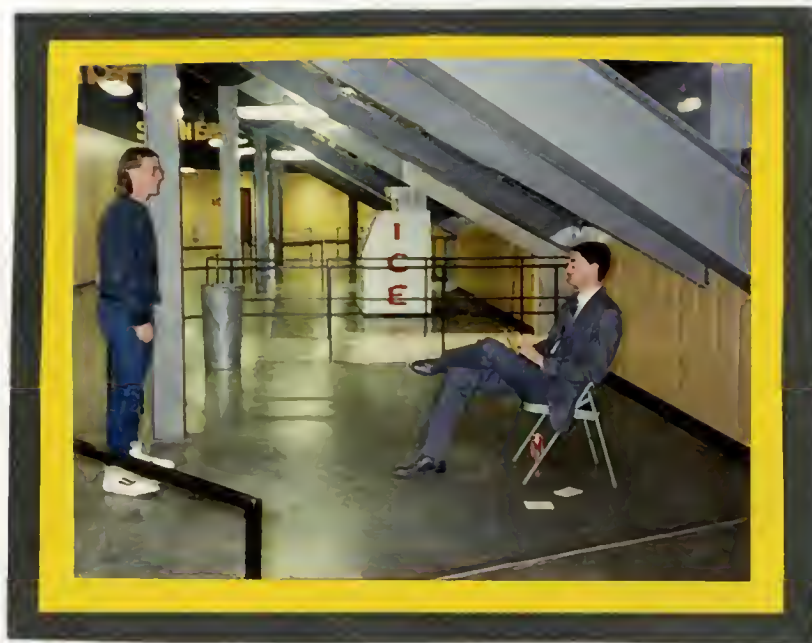

The contestants were served sack lunches before they prepared to give reasons.

The contestants were seated in the bleachers of the Coliseum as they prepared and waited to give their reasons.

The FHSU Judging Team members officiated the Northwest District Livestock Contest.

The FHSU Judging Team members took reasons from the contestants.

The FHSU Judging Team members gave the officials of the classes before the results were announced.

The FHSU Judging Team members handed out the placques and awards as the results were announced.

Dr. Gould sat with a handicapped student as the facilities did not work for him to set with his team.

The B & B members which helped with the contest waited around to hear the results of the contest.

The contestants and coaches were seated in the bleachers of the coliseum to hear the officials and to wait to hear the results of the contest.

Computers were used by the B & B members to complete the tabulations.

The team coaches visited outside the Pavilion with Dr. Gould and other FHSU faculty members as they waited for their team to finish judging.

Rosemary Forbes finished 2nd overall at the American Royal with Marty Sneath finishing 10th. The 1990 team took over at Phoenix finishing 7th overall with Rich Gleason finishing 9th in Reasons. The team also finished 11th at the Fort Worth Stock Show and is currently preparing for the NACTA contest at the University of Minnesota, Waseca on April 27th.

Block & Bridle Regional Meeting

This years North Central Regional Block & Bridle meeting was hosted by South Dakota State University, Brookings, South Dakota, on October 25 and 26, 1989. Club advisor, Dr. Mike Gould and 12 B & B members attended. During the business meeting new regional officers were elected. Two of the four officers elected were from FHSU; Jerre'e Huckins was elected as Vice President, and Laura Kleweno was elected Secretary/Treasurer. Club member Marty Sneath served as the 1988-89 regional Reporter.

Next years North Central Regional meeting will be October 26 and 27, 1990, at Fort Hays State University.

Block & Bridle National Meeting

On January 10, 1990, members of the FHSU Block & Bridle Club left to attend the National Block & Bridle Winter Meetings in Denver, Colorado. The meetings were held in conjunction with the Northwestern Livestock Show.

Highlights of the trip included touring Monfort Feedlot, the Colorado State Equine Center, attending the Stock Show and being entertained at our business meeting luncheon by cowboy poet, Baxter Black.

Next years meeting will be held in March, 1991, at Houston, Texas.

Endowment Telethon

In the fall the Annual Endowment Telethon was held. The Block and Bridle Club teamed up with some other callers from the Agriculture Department. The club was very successful raising over $4,580 for FHSU.

Junior Advisor	Robert Stephenson

The FHSU chapter of DTA traveled to Cape Girardeau, Missouri to attend the 31st Annual National Convention. Six club members and an advisor attended the meetings. Loren Graff (current President) served as the chapter's delegate while Carl Cheney, Tom Herzog, and Chip Hendricks competed as a team in the 2nd Annual Ag Bowl. A hog roast was held the first evening, followed by a barn dance at the South East Missouri State Farm. Several changes were made to the Constitution, most notably that members must rank in the top 35% of their class. It was a busy time for everyone, but one that we will all remember.

The 1991 convention will be held at SW Texas State University.

Preparing for the Little I...

Little I Chairman, Tim Zenger was getting the arena worked and ready for the Little I. Tim was also in charge of many other aspects that was done several months before the Little I.

Members worked together to get the work done that made the Little I a success.

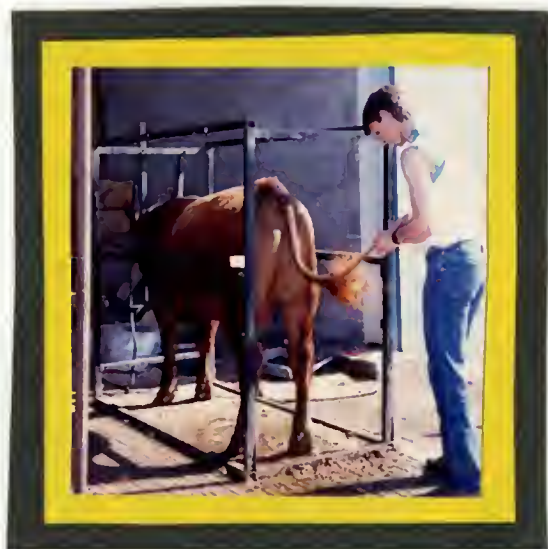

Little I Participants had three weeks to work with their animals and get them ready for the show.

Participants helped each other while preparing for the show. Managers of the College Farm also were very willing to give their advise and help to participants.

Participants were busy the day of the Little I as they washed and prepared their animals for the show.

Some of the participants had last minute touch ups before entering the show ring. The participants helped each at times when the species chairman was available to give advise

A Mock Little I was held several days before the Little I to help the participants who had never shown before and also to help the Little I run more smoothly.

Dear B & B Members,

Welcome to the 70th annual National Block & Bridle Conference. During the next three days you will have the time to renew friendships, gain valuable knowledge and insights, and celebrate the festivities associated with the National Western Stock Show.

Our conference theme, "Take Charge of Your Future" stresses the importance of looking ahead to a future filled with change and new developments. Clearly the tremendous transition that the agricultural industries are going through place new challenging demands upon each of us; however, let us never forget that change brings opportunity for our universities, and ourselves.

With this in mind, we challenge you to take maximum advantage of the program designed to help you prepare for a successful future.

The CSU Block & Bridle, and the executive committee extend a warm welcome to all of you with the hope that you will find the next few days to be fast-paced and exciting.

Sincerely,

SPEAKERS

Kevin Ochsmier: Currently a Junior at Colorado State University, majoring in Agricultural Business. In 1987-1988 he served as the National IFA Secretary. During his term in office he traveled to several states, and a foreign country, speaking about leadership, and the Agriculture Industry. He also served on the Board of Directors for the North American Junior Livestock Association.

Mr. Norman Brakich: Graduated from the University of Missouri in 1961 with a major in Animal Husbandry. He started with the UpJohn Co. immediately following graduation as a Veterinarian Sales Representative. He progressed through the sales representative divisions until he was appointed as a Director of Agricultural Marketing for UpJohn, in 1980. Four years later he became the Executive Director of Animal Health Operations for the Agricultural Division of UpJohn in the United States and Canada.

Dr. Gary Smith, Ph.D.: Head of the Animal Science Department at Texas A & M University. He is well known for his work in the area of Meat Science and has received numerous awards for his teaching and research.

Dr. Bernie Bollins: Professor of Philosophy, Physiology & Biophysics, and the Director of Bioethical Planning at Colorado State University. He is well known for his published works and his lectures on animal ethics, genetic engineering, and other areas of bioethics.

TOURS

Greeley Tour: This tour will depart promptly at 8:00 a.m., and will include the Moffat feedlot, a sheep feedlot, and the CSU equine center and campus. Your lunch is provided in the tour fee. (limited to first 150).

Animal Industry Tour: This tour will depart at 8:30 a.m. It will include the National Cattlemen's Association & Cattle Fair, Sheep Industry Association, Meat Export Federation, and the Arabian Horse Center. Lunch will be provided. (limited to first 150).

National Western Stock Show Tour: This tour also departs at 8:30 a.m. It will give those participating, the opportunity to visit the largest stock show in North America. This tour is one where you may do as you wish, but the bus returns to the motel at 5:00 p.m. You may return to the motel or stay at the Stock Show and return to the hotel on the buses after the evening rodeo performance. There will be plenty of time to visit exhibits and booths, watch individual classes, and look over the livestock both "on the hill" and "in the yards." Lunch on your own. This will also give you an opportunity to see the world's largest car load bull show, and commercial displays that are enclosed in three large exhibit areas. Plan on all day at the National Western.

Dairy judging contest to bring 100 entrants

By Charity Whitney
Staff writer

More than 100 dairy judges are scheduled to visit Fort Hays State Sept. 19.

The expected 150 contestants are members of Future Farmers of America teams from 25 high schools who are competing in a dairy judging contest, sponsored annually by the FHSU department of agriculture.

"Each school can bring two four-man teams, an A-team and a B-team, plus any number of individuals," Rick Mullen, instructor of agriculture, said.

FFA chapters in the northwest Kansas district are eligible for the contest.

Judges compete in six classes, with four animals in each class. They must rank each animal with a placing, first through fourth.

"Most are dairy cow classes, although there are one or two classes of dairy heifers," Mullen said. "They are judged on their ability to function in a dairy herd, including confirmation and the ability to produce milk."

Confirmation is the general appearance of the cow, he said.

Judges are allowed 15 minutes per class and must then give oral reasons for their placings. Each contestant has two minutes for oral reasons.

"The official placings in the classes are done by an outside judge, along with the FHSU judging team," Mullen said.

Contestants give their oral reasons to members of the FHSU judging team.

Many of the teams that compete at the FHSU judging contest go on to compete in the Kansas State Fair competition.

"This is basically a preparation for State Fair," Mullen said.

FHSU has sponsored the contest for the past three years. Members of the Block and Bridle club help run the contest.

"Block and Bridle helps do most of the work," Mullen said. "It's a pretty big contest. It involves about 35 of our students."

The University Leader, September 12, 1989

Sandstrom, Jecha elected

Erik Sandstrom will return as student body president next year, after receiving 61 percent of the votes in Student Government Association elections.

The opposing presidential and vice-presidential candidates, Jesse Jacobs, Levant junior, and Wayne Brantley, Hays freshman, received 39 percent.

Seventeen percent of the student body turned out to vote, a remarkable number considering the small amount of campaigning, Jeff Hofaker, student body vice president, said.

Ninety-three percent of the voters approved the referendum granting Student Senate the power to override a presidential veto.

Experience contributed to the victory of Sandstrom and his running mate, Scott Jecha, Sandstrom said, despite some comments he had made to the University Leader earlier this week.

"I think if someone had read the whole article, they might have pulled out what I was trying to say, but the highlighted part didn't exactly pinpoint what I wanted to say," he said.

Sandstrom was quoted as saying he and Jecha were not campaigning because they did not believe their opponents had the experience to be taken seriously.

Sandstrom said he and Jecha will now begin plans for next year, beginning with selection of the executive staff. He said he would begin taking applications soon for those positions.

They were already making plans for next year, Sandstrom said, and had outlined several goals.

"Ever since Scott and I decided to run, I've had my sights set on 'I'll do this different; I'll do that different,' and now it's time to put those plans into action," he said.

Sandstrom said he and Jecha would work through the summer to reorganize the SGA office.

Sandstrom said he would also work with the SGA staff to set goals and get a better understanding of each others' duties.

Ever since Scott and I decided to run, I've had my sights set on 'I'll do this different; I'll do that different,' and now it's time to put those plans into action — Erik Sandstrom, re-elected student body president

Sandstrom said he plans to work more on campus issues next year by making himself more accessible to students than he has this year.

The reorganization of the office and clarification of duties will allow him to do so, he said, by making sure he is not doing things that could be done by other staffers.

Increased accessibility could be reached with continuing the idea of "You Set the Agenda" and similar programs, he said.

Thirty-two students were elected to the 1990-91 Student Senate, with three seats going unfilled.

Elected student senators are as follows, in no particular order:

- Humanities: Theresia Cox, Nashville, Tenn., junior; Daniel Weller, Hays sophomore; Lane Victorson, Yuma, Colo., sophomore; and Kari Austin, Hays junior.

- Social Sciences: Michael Shimek, Jennings sophomore;

- Natural Sciences and Mathematics: Chris Ruder, Hays junior.

- Business: Cameron Barnes, Hoxie sophomore; Darren Koester, Mankato junior; Lori Nanninga, Morrowville junior; Lisa Cluck, Highland sophomore; Deb Mulder, Logan junior.

- Counseling and Educational Services: Jerree Huckins, Pratt junior; Linda Schmitt, Scott City sophomore; Laura Graham, Logan sophomore; Cristi Blackmore, Jewell sophomore; Tina Peehanec, Hays sophomore; LuAnn Poer, Wheatland, Wyo., junior; and Diane Dunavan, Fort Riley sophomore.

- Life Sciences: Kathleen Leiker, Hays junior; and Laura Kleweno, Bazine sophomore.

- Health: Norma McCallister, Norcatur senior; and Diana Schemper, Prairie View junior.

- General Studies: Sandy Utterback, Salina sophomore; and Grant Bannister, Hays freshman.

- At large: Wally Long, Scott City junior; Kassie Dick, Hazelton freshman; Dawn Hansen, Hays senior; Sheila Morrill, Hays junior; Meehelle Foos, Ness City senior; and Steve Finnesy, Selden junior.

Business Education and Office Administration had no candidates and no write-in candidates with the required five votes. Health filled two of its allotted four seats.

It will be up to Jecha, as chairman of the senate, to appoint a student to the one seat open in this area.

All those elected must be approved by senate, which will take place next week, and will be sworn in the following week. They do not officially take office until June 1.

Tiger trainers earn recognition

DeBauche crowned champion

By Jeff Brackin
Copy editor

Ed DeBauche, Hays senior, was recently judged overall champion of the Little International Fitting and Showing Contest at Fort Hays State.

DeBauche, reserve champion Marty Sneath, Kanopolis senior, and more than 40 other students signed up for the category they wanted to show then drew for the untrained dairy cattle, beef animals, horses, sheep and swine in March.

The contestants had three weeks to train their animals for show-ring competition. The entries had to be introduced to brush, curry comb and a halter before show-ring manners could be taught.

Sneath had to wait about two weeks before his steer was calm enough to work with.

DeBauche had a little easier time but still put in some work.

"She was a little stubborn to begin with. She had never been led before, and she didn't know what I wanted from her either," DeBauche said.

DeBauche and Sneath competed with entries they had trained themselves, until they and other division winners moved into the round-robin section of competition, where they showed each other's entries.

"You really don't know what to expect from a different animal other than your own," DeBauche said.

His method for showing animals is to be gentle and work with the animals. You can not manhandle them, he said.

Since horses are more intelligent than the other animals in the contest, they can be more difficult than the other animals if they do not recognize the person leading them, Sneath said.

They both have competed in past contests but do not think they will compete in further competition.

Other division winners include the following: Kathleen Leiker, Hays junior, beef champion; Robin Booth, Torrington, Wyo., junior, beef reserve champion; Beth Zenor, Hays senior, horse champion; Kristin Ketter, St. Francis junior, reserve horse champion.

Kathleen Leiker, Hays junior, sheep champion; Rusty Tilton, Beloit senior, sheep reserve champion; and Rosette Pachta, Belleville senior, swine champion. DeBauche also won the swine reserve champion title.

THOUGHTS FROM THE CHAIRMAN

FHSU Agriculture Graduate Jobs and Job Prospects

Several years back, the economic situation in agriculture began to decline. Land values declined such that grass and farm prices halved in only a few years. Cash flows on many farms and ranches approached negative in too many instances. In the last few years, the agriculture may be rebounding relative to land values and commodity prices. Yes, the drought and temperatures have been a recent set back, but in the long haul, there is reason for optimism. During the recent times of economic declines in agriculture, many prospective agriculture majors have opted to pursue other college education programs after parents, teachers and others have advised many high school graduates that a good future does not exist in agriculture. I tend to disagree with this perception of "no future in agriculture." I quite honestly believe that, based on the large number of jobs for well-educated agriculture graduates, there is a quite attractive future in agriculture. There are, on a national level, 10 percent more jobs than graduates in agriculture every year for the past eight years. Furthermore, the situation is even of a greater disparity when graduates of Fort Hays Agriculture Department are concerned. As an example, we had 51 graduates of our department in the 1988-89 academic year. We had more than 70 job opportunities for our graduates. I have had many more calls and letters these past few years for well-educated graduates than has been the case in recent years.

Several notable examples come to mind. Quite recently, the KSU Cooperative Extension Service inquired how more FHSU Agriculture graduates might be enticed into county agriculture or 4-H agent positions. There are many such positions in Kansas. Further, nationwide there are also many county extension agriculture agent positions available. Iowa, Minnesota, Florida and Oklahoma (along with Kansas) are a few states with many vacant extension agent positions. We also have companies actively pursuing FHSU Agriculture graduates for jobs primarily in Western Kansas. Bartlett and Company, Servi-Tech, IBP, Agri-Tech and Farm Credit Services are a few of these companies. It is also very important to realize that starting salaries within most companies or organizations do not differ simply because of the student's alma mater.

LIVESTOCK JUDGING TEAM

The Fort Hays State University Livestock Judging Team is preparing for Fall 1989 journeys. The team of Carla Davis, Ekalaka, Montana; Rosemary Forbes, Kaycee, Wyoming; Tom Herzog, Miles City, Montana; Marty Sneath, Kanopolis; Tim Zenger, Haddam; alternates Rich Gleason, Spearville; and Kathleen Leiker, Munjor, coached by Kevin Huser, is returning after a very effective Spring 1989 tour.

Last Spring (1989) the Tigers started judging at Phoenix, placing first in Horses, second in Reasons, third in Beef and Sheep, fifth in Swine, leading to a second place Overall finish. Sneath (first in Reasons, second in Beef and fifth Overall) and Davis (third in Sheep and 6th Overall) led the team to within six points of first place California Poly at San Luis Obispo. Forbes placed second in Horses and seventh in Reasons while Zenger was third in Swine.

Two weeks later, in Denver, Marty Sneath finished seventh in Sheep while the team placed fourteenth Overall. However, on February 3rd in Fort Worth, Texas, the Tigers showed another strong performance. Led by Forbes (fifth in Horses) and Davis (sixth in Horses), the team wound up fifth Overall. They also finished third in Horses, fifth in Swine and Reasons, ending up ahead of Oklahoma State University (sixth) and Kansas State University (tenth).

One month later the team tried Texas again, this time at Houston. FHSU was third in Horses, fifth in Reasons, and ninth Overall, ahead of tenth place KSU. Forbes finished second high in Placings and in a three-way tie for high individual in Horses.

Dr. Mike Gould ventured out with the team in mid-April to Mattoon, Illinois, for the NACTA contest. He returned the team with a second place finish Overall. They also won Reasons, placed second in Sheep and Beef, and fifth in Swine. This was truly a team effort as all five Tigers finished in the top 18. Davis was second in Reasons, third in Beef and seventh Overall. Forbes was third in Sheep and fourth in Reasons. Herzog was fifth in Beef. Sneath won Cattle and finished second Overall in the contest.

The team members returned to school in August to finish their last semester of judging. A few new faces joined the team for workouts. Rob Rahe, Belleville; Rosette Pachta, Belleville; and Duane Strine, Effingham, are joining this year's alternates for a shot at next year's team.

BLOCK AND BRIDLE CLUB

The Fort Hays State University Block and Bridle Club upheld its tradition of being one of the largest and most active campus-wide organizations. Our membership grew to 66. The 1988-89 officers were: Eric Anderson, President; Melanie Stute, Vice-President; Kathleen Leiker, Secretary; Sheila Morrill, Treasurer; James Sechrist, Little International Chairman; Tom Herzog and Tim Van Laeys, Assistant Little International Chairmen; Jayne Dick and Deedra Wells, Historians; Doug Brower and James Sechrist, Publicity; Kevin Huser, JuCo Contest Chairman; Duane Strine, Dairy Contest Chairman; Dr. Mike Gould and Rick Mullen, Advisers.

The Block and Bridle Club's activities began when Dr. Gould and four students attended the summer national meeting at Rutgers University, New Brunswick, New Jersey. The club then started the school year off by serving approximately 3,000 students, faculty, alumni, guests and staff at the annual "Welcome Back" picnic.

The club was also in charge of hosting several judging contests held on campus. The first contest was the FFA Dairy Judging Contest held September 13 with 14 schools competing. The Junior College Judging Contest followed on September 30 with over 15 community colleges competing. Members were responsible for organizing the entire contest, as well as tabulating scores. The contest was followed by an awards banquet at the Fanchon Club in Hays.

Another activity in a very busy fall semester was the Kansas Junior Livestock Show in Wichita. Members fried hamburgers to serve more than 1,500 Kansas Junior Livestock Show participants and their families.

In November, Dr. Gould, National Secretary/Treasurer, and Rick Mullen, adviser, and 23 Block and Bridle members attended the winter national meeting in Louisville, Kentucky. Members attended educational tours, seminars and the national business meeting.

The fall semester concluded with the annual Block and Bridle/Rodeo Club Christmas party and dance at the Silver Spur in Schoenechen. Students from several community colleges were guests of the Block and Bridle Club.

The Spring semester began with ten students and Dr. Gould attending the regional meeting at the University of Missouri-Columbia. Marty Sneath was elected Regional Reporter.

The Little International was the next big event of the semester. Forty-five students from a variety of academic majors competed in five different species. The belt buckles awarded to showmen were sponsored by businesses and alumni. The awards banquet was attended by over 200 students, parents, faculty and guests. Little I showmen and members were recognized for outstanding achievement. This year Rick Mullen was awarded the Senior Service Award by the club and Duane and Sue Jeffrey were chosen as honorary members.

The club finished off the year by hosting the Northwest District Livestock Judging Contest. FFA Chapters from 15 schools competed. Club members were responsible for organizing the contest, as well as being officials.

The officers for the 1989-90 school year will be: Tom Herzog, President; Duane Strine, Vice-President; Jeree Huekins, Secretary; Carla Davis, Treasurer; Laura Kleweno, Doug Brower and Rosette Pachta, Historians; Sheila Morrill and Marcie Radford, Publicity; Marty Sneath, JuCo Contest Chairman; Mike Sehloctermeier, Assistant JuCo Contest Chairman; John Gould and Rich Gleason, FFA Dairy Contest Chairmen; Tim Zenger, Little International Chairman; Tim Van Laeys, Assistant Little International Chairman; Dr. Mike Gould, Senior Adviser; Rick Mullen, Junior Adviser.

On July 30, 1989, four Block and Bridle members, Dr. Gould and Rick Mullen attended the National Block and Bridle summer meeting in Lexington, Kentucky. The meeting was held in conjunction with the American Society of Animal Science. The group attended presentations on animal science research and teaching. They also attended the National Block and Bridle business meeting as well.

THE RODEO CLUB

It certainly is a pleasure to be a part of the Copenhagen/Skoal Scholarship Awards Program. The Fort Hays State University Rodeo Club are the "proud parents" of the Central Plains Region Bareback Riding Champion, Kent Crouch, Leoti; Bull Riding Champion, Ty Rinaldo, Grand Junction, Colo.; Reserve Champion Breakaway Roper, Michelle Radaey, Hays; and Men's All Around Cowboy, Kent Crouch. The Men's (1,317.5) and Women's (785) Teams finished fourth in the Central Plains but were very competitive throughout the spring rodeos. The regional second place teams had 1,598.33 (Panhandle State University men) and 1,125 (Northwestern Oklahoma State University women). In essence, our men and women had three rodeos each in which they scored very few points and, had they scored the average of their other seven rodeos, 188.2 and 112, respectively, both teams would have gone to Bozeman. Regardless of the "ifs," they "did themselves proud." Individuals that were regionally ranked: First and tenth in Barebacks, Kent Crouch and D.J. Johnson; twelfth in Saddle Brones, Dennis Anderson; ninth in Team Roping, Kent Crouch; first, third and twenty-fifth in Bulls, Ty Rinaldo, Kevin Rick and Dennis Anderson; fourth, eleventh, twenty-first and twenty-second in Barrels, Nancy Reece, Michelle Radacy, Brenda Minckley and Stacey Raupe; second, eighteenth and twentieth in Breakaway Roping, Michelle Radaey, Kristi White and Brenda Minckley; sixth in Goats, Kristi White; thirteenth in Women's All Around, Michelle Radacy; and first in Men's All Around, Kent Crouch.

The CNFR greeted Kent Crouch, Barebacks, Team Roping and All Around Competition; Ty Rinaldo, Bulls; Kevin Rieh, Bulls; and Michelle Radaey, Breakaway; to a week of competition and Fort Hays State left Bozeman nationally ranked fourth in Bareback Riding and Bull Riding and eighteenth in Breakaway Roping. In addition, Kevin Rieh was invited to fight two rounds of the Wrangler Pro Bull Fights with Lloyd Ketchum and Jeff Kobza and very proudly placed third in one round and second in the last round. In the way of background information, Kent won the first round, missed out second and placed fourth in the Short Go. The first and third place men are currently ranked twelfth and fifteenth in the PRCA Bareback and second in All Around World Standings.

Ty Rinaldo won the first and second rounds of Bulls and was within less than two seconds of the national title in the first round; however, a leg that had been seriously injured in the first round was just unable to weather the storm. The winner of the average was Ty Murray, currently ranked second in the PRCA race for the No. 1 NFR back number. Obviously, Ty was quite disappointed, but of equal importance, we will not see him compete until his leg recovers, which will be at least March 1990; however, he will have plenty to keep him busy. He is President of the Fort Hays State Rodeo Club and is the Central Plains Region Student Director.

Michelle Radacy missed the Central Plains Region Breakaway title as a result of the stomach flu. The title was determined the last rodeo and she went into the Short Go with very little strength but a lot of fortitude; however, she was unable to garner her average points, 64, and her 320 points earned her the Reserve Champion title, while 385 points won the Breakaway title. To say the least, she has a deep-seated conviction and the talent to not allow a repeat this season.

The 1989-90 team will be comprised of members from the following individuals: Eric Adelgren, Silver Lake, Barebacks; Dennis Anderson, Silver Lake, Bulls, Saddle Brones; Matt Bacon, Gordon, Neb., Calf Roping, Steer Wrestling; Rod Blessing, Hays, Saddle Brones; Jim Bond, Hays, Steer Wrestling, Calf Roping, Team Roping; Kyle Campidilli, Hazelton, Calf Roping, Team Roping; Joe Clevenger, Colony, Bulls, Saddle Brones; Storme Dahl, Wilson, Wyo., Barrels, Breakaway, Goats, Team Roping; Diane Doman, Medicine Lodge, Goats; Darren Gifford, Russell, Bulls; Kris Ketter, St. Francis, Barrels; Bryan Lankford, St. Francis, Team Roping; Brenda Minckley, Colony, Barrels, Breakaway; Michelle Radacy, Hays, Breakaway, Barrels, Goats; Dallas Rieh, Greensburg, Bulls; Ty Rinaldo, Grand Junction, Colo., Bulls; John Traul, Oskaloosa, Bulls, Steer Wrestling; Kristi White, Ashby, Neb., Breakaway, Goats.

These individuals will be joined by at least three more transfer competitors in the spring, which will result in additional depth in both men's and women's events.

The present schedule of rodeos includes only eight; however, we anticipate that two more will be scheduled for the spring. Pratt Community College, Oct. 6-8; Invitational Rodeo and Auction, Oct. 21; Alumni Rodeo, Oct. 22; N.W. Okla. State Univ., Nov. 9-11; Ft. Scott Comm. College, March 23-25; Kansas State Univ., March 30-April 1; Panhandle State Univ., April 6-8; S.W. Okla. State Univ., April 12-14; Garden City Comm. College, April 20-22; Fort Hays State, April 27-29.

Don't forget to mark your calendars for these events: October 21, FIISU Rodeo Auction; October 22, FIISU Invitational Rodeo; April 21, Little International/Awards Banquet; and April 27-29, FIISU Rodeo. Come back to your Alma Mater and celebrate with us.

DELTA TAU ALPHA

DTA kicked things off last fall with a welcome back picnic for returning members at Dr. Spaulding's residence. The weather cooperated and the burgers and hot dogs were cooked to perfection. The meal was followed by exciting games of volleyball and a good time was had by all.

Each year DTA invites guest speakers to address relevant topics in agriculture promoting the profession of agriculture. Last year the society had several speakers, including: Ken Folsom, Daco Commodities; John Hecht, Servi-Tech; Bob Broekelman, Farm Credit Services; Jim Sechrist, a FHSU student who completed a summer internship with Farmland Industries; and others.

In February, DTA held its annual "Chili Fest" as it initiated nine new members. Ice cream was served to help put out the fire, followed by the initiation ceremonies.

The club closed out the year by holding a spring cookout at Frontier Park. Once again the activity was a real success.

Officers for the 1988-89 school year were: Mark Boese, Hutchinson, president; Loren Graff, Marinth, vice-president; Doug Simon, Hays, secretary; Russel Dick, Buhler, treasurer; Todd Nedrow, Kirwin, activities chairman.

Several members graduated, but those returning are looking forward to a productive year in 1989-90.

New officers were elected as follows: Loren Graff, president; Todd Nedrow, vice-president; Brian Ewing, Kirwin, secretary; Raymond Splitter, Sylvan Grove, treasurer; and Duane Strine, Effingham, activities chairman.

UNIVERSITY FARM

The University Farm has both survived and prospered in the past year of extremes.

In the area of crop production, limited water and temperature extremes (late freeze and early heat and winds) resulted in wheat and milo yields about half of average in 1988. Timely (though limited) rains this spring has resulted in rather limited native grass growth. Consequently, we were forced to cull the beef cow herd rather severely, though we did not have to liquidate as many as our neighbors did. Cow-calf pairs set sale records in our area during the late spring. We were fortunate that sale prices held rather high, so all was not lost. However, our areas mamma-cow numbers will be several years in a rebuilding process. Further, many area pastures were overgrazed and will take several years of tender loving care and intelligent management to return to good condition. Since we received almost no moisture going into the spring of '88, we had almost no native grass production and no feed production. Consequently, we were forced to purchase all of our feed needs for the beef herd.

However, all was not gloom and doom relative to the beef program. In fact, the beef program, managed by Gary Rolland, may well have come of age in 1988 and early 1989. The present breeding and management program was initiated about ten years ago. In 1988 and 1989, the demand for our bulls for both commercial and purebred producers was the highest ever. One of our partnership bulls (Pringle Simmental Ranch of Tribune) sold for $21,000 and a heifer, again partnered by Pringle Ranch, sold for $1,800 at the Beef Expo. Further, a FHSU bull was the high selling animal at the Kansas State Simmental Association Sale (Russell) at $3,500. The year before, we had the second high selling bull at the Simmental Sale. The FHSU Red Angus bulls have been in great demand also. We have twice as many calls for bulls as we have animals to meet the requests. In fact, requests for our X-Bred bulls have been increasing with the beginning of acceptance of use of X-Bred males. As is evident, the FHSU beef program has had its most successful year ever even though the weather was a disaster.

The Dairy has had the most successful year in the last 10. In fact, our dairy ranks thirteenth in the state of all DHIA dairies. The rolling herd average is 22,325 pounds of milk, 810 pounds of butterfat at 3.4 percent per cow. The dairy has installed much state-of-the-art equipment recently. Mike Ouellette (and his entire crew) is well on the way to making effective use of computerization. The dairy unit will "open the trail" for the other farm units in the computerization effort.

The swine and sheep units held their second production sale in the spring of '88 and the third in the spring of '89. In these two production sales, over 100 head of our pigs and 75 head of lambs were sold as prospect show animals. Relative to these pigs and lambs sold, one State Fair Champion resulted, one State Fair Reserve Champion resulted, and numerous County (well over 15) Fair Champions and Class Winners have resulted. Kevin Huser, our newest unit manager as well as our livestock judging team coach, begins the process of producing next year's pigs and lambs for the sale. We will hold the sale in late April 1990. Kevin will begin the sale promotion process in a few days.

AGRIBUSINESS

As with most Agriculture and Agribusiness programs in universities around the United States, our Agribusiness enrollment has declined somewhat over the past several years. We are happy to note that this trend seems to have leveled off and possibly reversed itself with some increases in the number of incoming freshmen and transfer students this fall over the previous fall's enrollment.

One very important factor that is helping us is that job opportunities for our graduates have improved substantially over the past couple of years. This has been caused in part by improvements in the economic climate in agriculture and also to an increasing awareness by potential employers of the generally high quality of our graduates. We are very pleased with reports we are getting back about the performance of our recent graduates. Also, we sense that we are receiving a great deal of support from our alums in spreading the word about our program. For this we are very grateful. All in all, these factors have helped us a great deal.

In order to continue to strengthen our Agribusiness program at Fort Hays State University, we are currently in the process of evaluating our program and working towards a few changes we feel will make our program even stronger. The major thrust of these changes will be to provide students with more flexibility in developing their individual programs and to provide some additional emphasis in the area of agricultural marketing for all students. Also, we have received some interest expressed for the development of a Agribusiness/Industrial Safety option in our program. If any of you have any opinions about any of these or other possible adjustments to our program, we would welcome your comments.

In summay, we are very optimistic about the Agribusiness program, as we are the other programs offered in the Department and feel confident that our program is in line with those offered by other universities around the country. We are anxious to continually improve the program and, as always, will appreciate any suggestions from our alums.

SUMMER INTERNSHIPS

This past summer, 16 agricultural students participated in internships, both on- and off-campus. Internships offer the students an opportunity to gain practical work experience and college credit at the same time. In some cases, a successful internship has led to employment opportunities after graduation.

Many of the students worked in crops- and soils-related jobs, such as crop scouting. In recent years, crop scouting has become an important management tool for growers. Scouts report on current field conditions regarding insects, weeds and diseases. They then make recommendations about pest control, as well as irrigation scheduling.

Several students were involved with field research in both the public and private sector. They learned firsthand the effort required to bring a new variety or herbicide to the marketplace.

A farmer's cooperative provided one student the chance to integrate both crops and soils knowledge on a daily basis, whereas, the Soil Conservation Service taught skills in soil classification and mapping.

Students also worked at the University Farm in the crops, beef and dairy units. Responsibilities included fieldwork, milking, animal care and record keeping.

SORGHUM RESEARCH

Drs. Robert Stephenson and Jean Gleichsner were successful in obtaining funding from FHSU to conduct research in sorghum. Currently underway at the University Farm is a two-year study comparing sorghum production under conventional, minimum, and no-till systems. Weed control also is being evaluated. Preliminary observations favor sorghum production under minimum tillage.

Dr. Gould,

I want to thank you and the Block and Bridle Club for your help at the welcome back picnic Monday, August 21st. Your group was well organized, friendly and hard-working which contributed very much to the success of the event.

Again, my thanks for a job well done!

Dear Tom,

I would like for you to read the following letter to the membership of the club at the first chance you get.

I want to thank all of those who helped on the FFA Dairy Judging Contest and the JUCO Contest. Especially those designated as chairman and co-chairman of each contest:

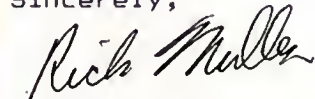

FFA	John Gould and Rich Gleason
JUCO	Marty Sneath and Mike Schloctermier

I felt that both contests went extremely well and you all are to be congratulated. I know it takes a lot of work and time on your part to put a contest together. I realize that many of you had to make special arrangements to be able to help when I needed you, and I really appreciate your willingness to be there.

We don't have another contest until in the spring, and I hope it will be as successful as these were.

Once again thanks, and congratulations on a job well done.

Sincerely,

Rick Mullen

Dear Dr. Gould:

We want to express our thanks for the great job you and your members did in preparing the exhibitors hamburger fry during our 1989 show. My only regret is that I did not have a chance to sample those delicious burgers!

We have enclosed our check for $729.79 representing your bill given to us by our mutual friend, Joe Rickabaugh.

We hope you have a good school year at Fort Hays.

Sincerely

Dear Jerree:

I received your letter regarding FHSU hosting the 1990 North Central Block and Bridle Regional Conference on October 26 and 27. We have scheduled a welcome at your breakfast meeting on the morning of October 27 so please let us know later on as to the time and place.

Congratulations on your being elected vice-president of the North Central Region. I am sure you and Laura will be excellent officers---you asked me a year in advance to give a welcome at your 1990 conference!

Best wishes for a very enjoyable, productive and successful fall season.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Tom:

Even though this is belated, I do want to send to you a special word of appreciation for your organization's help with our clean up on campus and the Big Creek area on Thursday, October 19, during our National Alcohol Awareness Week.

I certainly appreciate the cooperation you have given our university and hope that we will continue to have an enjoyable time working together. There is no doubt that such efforts will enhance the visibility and reputation of your organization, but just as important is the message sent to our academic community that students at Fort Hays State University do care about the appearance of our lovely campus. Thanks so much for your effort and for a job well done.

FHSU will hold 1991-92 meeting

Thirteen chapter members of the Block and Bridle Club at Fort Hays State University attended the club's regional fall conference at South Dakota State University, Brookings.

Tim Zenger, Haddam senior, gave an illustrated talk about the FHSU chapter program, and Dr. Mike Gould, chairman of the agriculture department, led a workshop. He is national secretary-treasurer of the Block and Bridle Club and FHSU chapter adviser.

Approximately 75 members attended the conference from chapters in Kansas, Iowa, North and South Dakota, Nebraska and Missouri. The group approved FHSU's invitation to meet in Hays in 1991-92.

Students representing FHSU in Brookings were:

Laura Kleweno, Bazine; Rob Rahe, Belleville; Deanna Fitzsimmons, Cunningham; Marty Sneath, Kanopolis; Doug Brower, Manhattan; Shane Wurm, Oberlin; Jerree Huckins, Pratt; Janet Sueler, Westfall; Tom Herzog, Miles City, Mont.; and Stephanie Davis, McMurray, Penn.
